FOREWORD

THE enthusiasm with which the first volume of the Alumni Record was received has led us to believe that a second edition, covering the history of school activities for the past three years, would meet with the general approval of the alumni and their friends. In placing this volume before the public, it is our sincere hope that the book may not only fulfill its primary purpose of furnishing useful and interesting information, but that it may also serve to bind the alumni even more firmly together, and create among them a deeper appreciation of their Alma Mater.

In the compilation of material we have not aimed to be exhaustive, but have rather striven to present such facts as seemed worthy of preservation. If, in any degree, these pages fall short of the reader’s expectations, we beg that his criticism be not too severe, for in this, like all other works, perfection is a qualified term.

R. M. T.
To

Albin Nicholas Johnson, LL. M.

Founder of the Alumni Association and a Former President of the Board of Education

In appreciation of his untiring and efficient service to the schools of Freeport, and as an expression of the esteem in which he is held by the Graduates, this second volume of the Alumni Record is respectfully dedicated
ALBIN NICHOLAS JOHNSON, LL. M.
Mr. Albin Nicholas Johnson was born in the City of Göteborg, Sweden, on the tenth of September, 1874. At ten years of age he moved to this country with his parents, and in 1886, took up his residence in Freeport. Mr. Johnson was a pupil in the Freeport Union Free School, and in 1893 graduated from the academic department as president of his class. In 1894 he received his diploma from the commercial division of Pratt's Institute, and fourteen years later was awarded the degree L.L. B. by the New York University Law School. He also studied at the Brooklyn Law School, and in 1905 had conferred upon him the degree of L.L. M. In the year following his graduation Mr. Johnson was married to Miss Estelle Graham VanRiper. At present he is senior partner of the law firm of Johnson & Johnson.

For many years Mr. Johnson has been one of Freeport's well-known and leading citizens, having widely identified himself in fraternal, civic and educational circles. He is a charter member and Past Regent of Fraternal Council, No. 1962, Royal Arcanum, and as Supervising Deputy Grand of that organization has compiled the celebrated "Fraternal Ritual," which will probably be adopted as the initiation ritual of the entire order. He is claimed by the Freeport Club, the Freeport Mutual Benevolence Association, Freeport Chapter, No. 32, Royal Arch Masons, Freeport Lodge, No. 1253, Beneficent and Protective Order of Elks, and by the Jamaica Conclave, No. 99, Improved Order of Heptasophs. He is counsellor for and a member of the Freeport Business Men's Association, and also holds membership with the Nassau County Bar Association and the American Bar Association.

In 1894, Mr. Johnson founded the Alumni Association, and during its first three years served as President. In 1910 he was elected a member of the Board of Education, and two years later was made President of the same, being the first alumnus to receive these honors. While a member of the board Mr. Johnson gave much of his time to its interests, and in the performance of his duties was most conscientious and efficient. At present Mr. Johnson holds no official relation with the Freeport schools, yet their various activities find in him an earnest and enthusiastic supporter.
ROBERT H. HUNT
President of the Board of Education
Members of the Alumni Association:

You are to be congratulated on the publication of another edition of your Year Book. It will keep fresh in the memory of your ever increasing membership the achievements of the past, whether in halls of study and school work, or on the athletic field where so many of the association have won such signal honors and added to the glory of F.H.S. The close relationship that existed between the association and the school in the years that have passed will be intensified, and those who are now students will be encouraged to persevere to the end, so that they too will be honored by membership in the Alumni Association. In the years that are before it, and when its members are engaged in the stern realities of a busy life, may the inspiration received from associations of the past be a blessing and a benediction.

Very sincerely,

Robert N. Hunt
Fellow Alumni:

What has the Freeport High School Alumni Association done for you? What will it do for me? These, perhaps, are the first inquiries made by the graduates every year upon entering the association.

The Alumni organization has several purposes which it endeavors to accomplish. The most significant motive is to uphold permanently the fervor of the high school.

Recall and compare the years at F. H. S. with the present. Yesterday, we were united in Freeport High, studying and enjoying the atmosphere of our games as we vigorously fought side by side, while the zeal manifested by our classmates made the spirit of Freeport rise within us. These years developed a circle of binding friendships which will prove life-long. Today, we are bearing life's heavy burdens or increasing our knowledge for professions at higher institutions of learning. Thus in fond memories we will understand that it was in the old school at Freeport, foundations for our lives were built and ambitions for the future determined.

Realizing the value of this organization, may we all reveal a fraternal interest in the F. H. S. Alumni Association.

I most heartily congratulate the association and publisher upon this edition of the Alumni Record.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

HAROLD BLAKE SMITH, '13
President of the Alumni Association, 1914-1915
URING the past three years the Alumni Association has continued to enjoy the prosperity that began when the association was first formed. A change in the date of the annual meeting, from June to the Saturday before Easter, has made possible an increased attendance at this session, while a marked interest in the affairs of the association has been generally manifested.

Late in the spring of 1912, the annual election of officers took place, and on June 27 the sixth annual banquet was held at the Garden City Hotel. Among the seventy members and friends of the Alumni present was the retiring Principal of the High School, Professor Roy Leon Smith. Mr. Smith, who had been a member of the faculty for eight years, was presented by his many friends of the Alumni with a set of Ridpath's History of the World, as an expression of their high regard for him, and as an appreciation of his long and efficient work.

During the summer of 1913, plans were laid for the production of Richard Harding Davis' popular comedy, The Dictator, so that on September 3, 1913, in the Sigmund Opera House, a large and appreciative audience had the pleasure of witnessing this most enjoyable play, well staged and excellently acted. In the winter that followed, a series of entertainments and concerts which were held did much to promote interest in the association and to bring into closer touch its various members.

In 1913, through adverse circumstances, the association was unable to hold its annual banquet, but in the following year interest was again aroused, for, on June 25, 1914, a most pleasing banquet was given at the Garden City Hotel.

The officers of the Alumni Association since 1911 have been as follows:

THE ALUMNI RECORD

In September of 1911 there was issued the first Alumni Record of Freeport High School. This was a book of one hundred and twenty-eight pages, dedicated to Mr. Hiram R. Smith, and containing a complete history of both School and Alumni Association, accounts of all under-grade activities, a biography of each graduate, and numerous interesting half-tone illustrations. The book had a large circulation and did much to acquaint the Alumni and their many friends with the various activities of Freeport High School. The following board edited and published the Record:

Editor-in-Chief, GEORGE CLIFFORD COLVER.
Assistant Editor, EDWARD WESLEY TREE.
Publisher, JAMES ESMOND STILES.

SOME EARLY SCHOOLS IN THE FREEPORT DISTRICT
HISTORY OF THE FREEPORT SCHOOLS
1911—1914

In the first edition of the Alumni Record, published in September, 1911, there was given a comprehensive view of Freeport's educational history, from the time when the first school district was formed in about 1820, until the holding of the annual meeting of the voters in 1911. At the latter date the school system consisted of an academic department, three grade schools, three principals, a superintendent, over forty-two teachers and more than twelve hundred pupils. The Board of Education was composed of the following members:

Samuel R. Smith, President
Walter B. Cozzens
Albin N. Johnson
William H. Sammons
Henry L. Crandell

In the latter months of 1911 unfortunate circumstances brought about several changes in the personnel of the faculty. On charges of a grave nature, Superintendent Arthur E. Barnes was removed from office by School Commissioner Dr. James A. Cooley, and the Principal of the High School, Professor Roy Leon Smith, offered temporary superintendency. Mr. Smith refused to accept, and since a majority of the board took umbrage at the form of his written declination, his connection with the school was also severed. Trustees Albin N. Johnson, Henry L. Crandell and his many friends in both the school and community considered Mr. Smith's removal a great loss in view of the good work he had done and because of his unusually fine personality.

Pending the hiring of a Superintendent of Schools, the Dean of the Faculty, Miss Caroline G. Atkinson, assumed the work of that executive and performed her duties in a very efficient manner. For the remainder of the school year another member of the faculty, Mr. Charles K. Robbins, acted as Principal of the High School, while in the latter part of January, Professor Ward C. Moon, of East Orange, New Jersey, was engaged as Superintendent.
The annual school meeting for the year 1912 took place in the high school on the second Tuesday in May. The vacancies in the Board of Education occasioned by the retirement of Mr. Samuel R. Smith and Mr. Henry L. Crandell were filled by the election of Mr. Wallace R. Post and Mr. Robert H. Hunt, and in the following August these new members took up their duties, making the membership of the board as follows:

ALVIN N. JOHNSON, President
WILLIAM H. SAMMONS         ROBERT H. HUNT
WALLACE R. POST             WALTER B. COZZENS

In the fall of 1912 the schools opened under most promising conditions. The faculty was again enlarged, Mr. Ward C. Moon returned to assume the superintendency, and Mr. Herbert B. Arthur, of Carthage, New York, began his duties as Principal of the High School. As there was an unusually large number of new teachers entering upon their work in Freeport, a reception was tendered to them and their friends on the evening of September 27, 1912, in the Freeport Club House. This affair was a gratifying success and did much to bring faculty and parents into closer relationship with one another.

During the latter part of 1912 the urgent need of new school accommodations was felt, for it had become necessary to hire a room for classes in the village and to place many pupils on a part-time schedule. Plans were accordingly laid in January, 1913, by the Board of Education for the submitting of two propositions, the first calling for the expenditure of $12,000 for the purchase of a suitable site; the second for the expenditure of $125,000 for the erection thereon of a high school building. A special meeting to consider the project was held on February 21, 1913, but the sentiment of the townspeople was strongly against a new high school, so that both propositions were voted down.

In the days following this meeting, many citizens changed their attitude in the matter, and the propositions gained favor. A second special meeting was accordingly held in the Sigmond Opera House on April 25, 1913, yet both propositions were again rejected. The consensus of opinion at this meeting was that more sites should be submitted to the voters for consideration, and that the school needs should be more thoroughly investigated. It was, therefore, voted that the chairman, Mr. Hiram R. Smith, appoint a committee of seven citizens to confer with the Board of Education in regard to the needs of the district.

At the regular, or annual, meeting held on May 6, 1913, no action was taken on the new school project, but the committee of seven was announced as consisting of the following:

Dr. D. A. Jordan, Chairman

</tr>
</thead>

<td>D. Sutherland, Jr.</td>

Although the annual budget, which was considered at this time, had increased from the previous year approximately $7,000, bringing the amount up to about $55,000, it was readily accepted by the voters. In view of this fact, it was of much interest to those present to listen to a few remarks from Mr. Hiram R. Smith, who, in speaking of the rapid growth of Freeport's educational system, contrasted the 1913 budget with that of the year 1886. It was at that time, he said, that he was first elected a member of the school board, and he recollected that the taxpayers then considered $500 a sufficient sum for school maintenance.

In the election occurring at this time, Mr. C. D. Baker was chosen to replace the retiring president of the board, Mr. Albin N. Johnson, making the personnel of that body as follows:

Robert H. Hunt, President

Walter B. Cozzens C. Dwight Baker
William H. Sammons Wallace A. Post

Throughout the next few weeks, the new school question was extensively discussed and on July 1, 1913, another special meeting was held. The committee of seven now made its report, submitting several propositions and advocating that a plot near the present high school be purchased and a wing to that building be erected thereon. The assemblage voted, however, that there should be still another meeting held to decide upon the propositions submitted.

Accordingly, a special meeting was held September 26, 1913, in the Grove Street School and two propositions adopted, one calling for the purchase of a site on Columbus Avenue, at a price of $12,000, and the other for the erection thereon of a grade school at a cost of $70,000. This school, which will be ready for occupancy in January, 1915, is situated in the northeastern section of Freeport, familiarly known as the "Bronx." It will be a handsome brick structure, superior to the other school buildings, accommodating three hundred and fifty pupils, and having in addition to its eleven class rooms, a large auditorium with a seating capacity of four hundred. This school has also been so constructed that a gymnasium and basketball court may be easily fitted up in the basement.

On February 14, 1914, Mr. William H. Sammons resigned from the Board of Education, since he had left Freeport to make his home elsewhere, and Mr. John D. Gunning, a former school board member, was appointed to succeed him.

In 1914 there came a change in the law specifying the date of the annual meeting, so that the time for the election of board members and the consideration of other school matters was now fixed for the first Tuesday in August.

At this regular meeting, on August 4, 1914, Mr. Charles C. Moore was elected to replace Mr. John D. Gunning as a member of the board, but in the selection of a successor to Mr. Cozzens, no majority was reached. The meeting was, therefore, adjourned until August 11, 1914, when Mr. Cozzens was re-elected by a large majority. The Board of Education now consists of the following members:

ROBERT H. HUNT, President
C. C. MOORE         C. D. BAKER
W. B. COZZENS       W. R. POST

Freeport may justly feel proud of her educational facilities. Within a short time after the publication of this book we shall have four schools, with a total enrollment of nearly sixteen hundred pupils, four principals, a superintendent and a faculty of about fifty teachers, while there is every indication that the rapid growth of the past will continue.

The following table of school enrollment will no doubt be of interest:

THE FREEPORT TRAINING SCHOOL

In September, 1913, through the efforts of Superintendent Ward C. Moon, there was established at Freeport High a Teachers’ Training School. Although but a year old, this addition to Freeport’s educational system has already proved that it is to become a valuable asset to the village. Under the able instruction of Miss Bertha Rowe, the sixteen young ladies comprising this school have pursued courses in elementary subjects, psychology, agriculture and methods of teaching, receiving much commendation for their successful work. Upon the completion of their year and a half course, in January, 1915, they will be qualified to teach in any school district not maintaining an academic department, and after obtaining three years’ experience in the class-room, will be entitled to instruct in any school district. Freeport is assuredly fortunate in being one of the very few towns of New York State that is enabled to furnish training at home for those of her students desiring to become teachers.

Although scholarship is the primary object of the members of this class, they have well provided for the social side of their school life. When the class was organized last September, committees were selected to regularly arrange for excursions, entertainments, theatre parties and socials, so that the young ladies passed a most enjoyable as well as profitable year. The following is the personnel of the class for the past year:

FOND MEMORIES

Tonight we raise our voices high,
Till our glad songs shall reach the sky,
In praise to thee, our hearts so nigh,
Whom we love most, dear Freeport High.

Though time must swiftly onward fly,
While hearts are strong and hopes beat high,
Yet memories still will backward fly,
To thee, to thee, dear Freeport High.

Words and Music by H. F. D. Kelsey.

FREEPORT HIGH

Tune, “Our Director.”

Hail to dear old Freeport,
Noble and grand;
To thee, as staunch and loyal sons,
we'll stand
Forever, forging onward;
Singing aloud her praises,
And in the fight
We'll e'er be faithful
To red and white.

Honor, love and loyalty,
These three in one;
Bind us together, students of the grandest
School beneath the sun;
And when our course is over,
With tear-dimmed eye
We salute thee,
Old Freeport High.

THE STUDENT

Ever since 1905, when The Student was first published, the paper has been an important factor in the development of Freeport High School. It has done much to unite Alumni and undergraduates, to foster a deeper spirit of good fellowship among the student body, and to further the interests of our Alma Mater.

Since January, 1912, The Student has been edited and managed by the following boards:

THE STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

In September, 1912, there came a radical change in the control of undergraduate activities at Freeport High School. At the suggestion of several of the alumni, the Athletic Associations were replaced by a new organization designed to promote and control all school athletics as well as The Student. The first election resulted as follows:

President .................. RUSSELL RANDALL
Vice President ................ ANITA MILLER
Secretary .................... RUSSELL M. TREE
Treasurer .................... FLORENCE CRANDALL

Members of Executive Committee,
Gladys Cook, Henry Murray

The first year of this new organization met with such general approval on the part of the student body that it was decided to continue the association, and in June, 1913, the following officers were elected for the second year:

President .................. RUSSELL M. TREE
Vice-President ............... ELSA NYGREN
Secretary .................... FREDERICK CLARK
Treasurer .................... DYER T. JONES

Members of Executive Committee,
Mildred Hill, Stuart Cutler

The Students' Association is a purely voluntary organization, its membership being open to all the students and teachers of the high school.

Thus far the association has been highly successful from a financial standpoint, supporting the teams of basketball, baseball and football, and also contributing to The Student.
BASEBALL

If Freeport High took pride in the early baseball teams that represented her, she may justly be proud of the teams of the past three seasons, each of which has established an unbroken league record. In 1912 The Brooklyn Daily Eagle offered a bronze trophy, La Rennome, to that school which should finish first in the Nassau County Interscholastic Baseball League, the permanent retention of this trophy resting upon its being won three times.

Freeport's team of the year 1912 was a remarkable one, for it not only easily defeated every other team in the league, but also won every contest of its schedule of eighteen games, scoring nearly two hundred runs to its opponents' twenty-nine. Much of the success of this season was due to the able coaching of Mr. James J. Nolan, and to the leadership of Manager Henry Kreuzweiser and Captain Russell Randall.

The team of the following year found before it a harder task, since Lawrence High School was now added to the group of contestants for the league championship. Nevertheless, in addition to winning all league games, Freeport's nine was victorious in three others, losing but five games in its schedule of seventeen. The team was captained by Edward Meany and managed by Jerome Nolan.

In 1914 the baseball squad was composed largely of new players, only five of the previous year's teams having remained in school. The material, however, was soon whipped into shape by Coach D. T. Jones, so that by winning eleven games, losing five and tying one, it succeeded in laying permanent claim to the Brooklyn Daily Eagle Trophy. During this season the team was led by Captain Fred Bedell and Manager Wright Lewis.

BASKETBALL

After an interval of four years, during which time the lack of floor space had made basketball an impossibility at Freeport High School, a suitable place for practice was secured, and in 1912 this sport was resumed. In that year, under the manangement of LeRoy Wells and the captaincy of Russell Randall, seventeen games were played, eight of which were won by the wearers of the Red and White.

In the following year, with the same captain and with Manager Howard Ohm, the team met with less success and succeeded in winning only one of a schedule of seven games. As this result was mainly brought about through the lack of a proper place for practice, no efforts were made to organize a team for the season of 1914.
FOOTBALL

The followers of the Red and White have seen a gradual decline in the gridiron sport at Freeport High during the past three years. In 1911, under Captain Russell Randall and Manager Edward Tree, Freeport High won seven games out of a schedule of ten and thus succeeded in retaining the championship of Nassau County.

The next year the team was considerably lighter; nevertheless, with an enlarged schedule, it managed to win a majority of games played. During this season the eleven was under the leadership of Captain Henry Murray and Manager Harold B. Smith.

The season of 1913 was perhaps the least successful of any in the history of F. H. S. The eleven of that year was composed of light and inexperienced men, and as there were no neighboring schools with which to contend, the wearers of the Red and White were forced to play strong city teams, against whom victory was almost impossible. Consequently, from a series of five games, Freeport High claimed but one victory.

TRACK

Owing to the fact that Freeport High School possesses no gymnasium, it has always been seriously handicapped in its efforts to turn out track teams. In 1912, however, under the leadership of Harold B. Smith, a running team was formed that met with much success. Its members earned numerous points in city contests, while the team itself easily won two meets with nearby schools.

The following year less interest was manifested in track, but by winning first place in the relay race at the Amherst meet at Patchogue, the team added still another cup to the school's collection.

The year 1914 saw little work accomplished in this sport, as no team was organized.

We're from Freeport High,
And we love to hear all our songs of cheer,
We'll be always true to the school we cheer for—
F. H. S.;
And the Red and White always conquers in the fight,
On the baseball field or track
Our good old teams come back,
Sure winners of old Freeport High.
FRENCH CLUB

After interest in the French Club had declined for several years, the society was re-organized in February, 1912, largely through the efforts of the French teacher, Miss Florence E. Cooper. Since then, meetings of a social and instructive nature have regularly been held at the homes of the club members. For the year 1914 the officers of the Cercle Frances were:

President ......................DOROTHY HIBBARD
Vice-President ..............ELIZABETH SCHNEIDER
Secretary-Treasurer ..............HYLDA FRALGH

GERMAN CLUB

For several years following its organization in 1906, the German Club of the Freeport High School furnished much enjoyment for its members. As in the Cercle Francais, meetings were regularly held at the homes of the members, when the time was pleasantly devoted to sociability and to conversation in the German tongue. In the past three years, however, the efforts made to continue Der Deutscher Verein have been unsuccessful, other activities having engaged the attention of the majority of the students.

DEBATE CLUB

The first Debate Club of the Freeport High School was organized in the year 1904, and under the supervision of Professor Roy Leon Smith many interesting and profitable discussions took place. Some time later, however, the club was abandoned, so that little real work in debating was accomplished until the fall of 1914.

At that time, under the direction of Miss Mary Estes and Mr. Dyer T. Jones, a Debate Club was formed with the end in view of not only furnishing experience in public speaking for the students, but also that a team might be trained to compete with those of nearby schools. Throughout this year, also, numerous debates were given, in which the club members gained much valuable practice and found no small degree of pleasure.

Although the schools to whom challenges were sent found it impossible to accept, it has been planned to make the Debate Club a permanent institution. The officers of that organization for the year 1913-1914 were as follows:

THEODORE WASSUNG ..................President
HELEN TURNER .............Vice President
MARY FOX ..................Secretary-Treasurer
THE INTERSCHOLASTIC PRIZE SPEAKING ASSOCIATION

Founded in 1908 to create and promote an interest in public speaking, The Interscholastic Prize Speaking Association has grown, through six successful years, to be an organization of wide interest.

By the substitution of Huntington for Rockville Centre, who early withdrew from the association, and the admission of Lawrence in 1914, the following schools now compose the organization—Hempstead, Huntington, Glen Cove, Lawrence and Freeport.

For the year 1912 the officers were:
President, Samuel Levy, Glen Cove.
Vice-President, Dorothy Nichols, Hempstead.
Secretary, August Galow, Huntington.
Treasurer, Russell Randall, Freeport.

At the fourth annual contest, held at Freeport, in the Sigmund Opera House, on April 26, 1912, the winners were:
Girls' First, Anna Cushing, Huntington.
Girls' Second, Jennie Grant, Glen Cove.
Boys' First, Bennet Ertell, Hempstead.
Boys' Second, Archibald Maxwell, Huntington.

During 1913, the officers of the Association were:
President, Harold B. Smith, Freeport.
Vice-President, Millia Davenport, Huntington.
Secretary, John Doran, Glen Cove.
Treasurer, Walter Sammis, Hempstead.

The fifth contest was held in the Glen Cove High School Auditorium, on May 3, 1913, and resulted as follows:
Girls' First, Margaret Phillips, Freeport.
Girls' Second, Ruth Cunningham, Glen Cove.
Boys' First, Russell M. Tree, Freeport.
Boys' Second, Howard P. Kreutzer, Huntington.
In 1914 the officers were:

President, Howard Kreutzer, Huntington.
Vice-President, LeRoy Ebright, Hempstead.
Secretary, Austin Johnson, Lawrence.
Treasurer, John Doran, Glen Cove.

The winners of the sixth annual contest held at Lawrence, on May 9, 1914, were:

Girls' First, Attalus Haynes, Lawrence.
Girls' Second, Anna Halpin, Huntington.
Boys' First, Stuart Cutler, Freeport.
Boys' Second, Frank Tuska, Lawrence.
F. H. S. SONGS

Clifford Colyer, '06.

Come, listen to our story,
Come, join us in our song,
As we sing of Freeport's glory
As we cheer the team along.
Her daughters ever loyal,
Her sons forever true;
May they ever be victorious,
Old F. H. S., for you.

CHORUS—

Alma Mater, Alma Mater,
We will honor thee;
Loudly cheer, boys; never fear, boys,
Ours the victory.
And when we hear our good old cheer,
Resounding from the sky,
Always true we'll be to you,
Our—dear old Freeport High.

Clifford Colyer, '06. Tune—"Solomon Levi."

Down where Atlantic's breezes gently sweep Long Island's strand,
There stands our Alma Mater, dearest school in all the land.
Her sons are loyal, every one, rejoicing at the sight
Of Freeport's banner, floating high—the flag of Red and White.

CHORUS—

Dear Freeport High School, to thee we'll ever be true;
And when we leave you
Our memories ever will dwell in the halls that we love,
And on the dear old flag
That's won full many a fight
We'll always point with joy and pride to good old Freeport's might;
Then while a son can lift a hand, her colors ne'er shall fall.
We'll pledge life-long devotion to the grandest school of all.

At basketball, on baseball field, at football or on track,
Our teams fight on for victory, nor courage do they lack.
Adversity may come at times, but passes quickly by.
When loudly in the air above rings out our battle-cry—

CHORUS—

PUBLISHER'S NOTE

The publication of this book has been made possible by the liberal support given by the business men of Freeport, and their generosity should be reciprocated, whenever possible, in the way of business patronage. The reader will confer an added favor upon both publisher and advertiser if, in his dealing with the merchants whose names appear among these pages, he would state that he had observed their advertisements in "The Alumni Record."

The publisher also takes this opportunity to thank those who have assisted him in the preparation of this volume. There have been a large number of such and their interest and cooperation have been thoroughly appreciated.
